ROME: REPUBLIC AND EMPIRE

Course Description

In this course, we shall survey Roman history and civilization from its beginnings to the Fourth Century, A.D. Themes to be emphasized include: (i) Roman conquest of Italy and the Mediterranean; (ii) the internal political struggle and the evolution of the Republican state; (iii) the fall of the Republic and the growth of the autocracy; (iv) Roman adjustments in attempting to hold the empire together; and (v) the culture of the peoples subject to Roman rule.

LECTURES: 2/week plus one discussion section.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMINATIONS: 6 week, 12 week, and final exam;
Honors students and 4-unit non-honors students will also write papers (below).
Exams: Will be essay style. They will require an understanding of the fundamental questions, supported by evidence found in the readings and lectures.
4-unit, non-honors students are required to write 2 very short (3-5 pages) papers based on the questions posed in Kagan. One topic should be selected from the first 7 questions, the second from the final 5. The first is due by March 13, the second by May 1.
Honors students: will write a paper supervised by the instructor.

GRADING: 3 units: approximately 25% for the 6 and 12 weeks exams, 10% for participation in discussion sections, and 40% for the final.

4 units: Approximately 20% for the 6 and 12 weeks exams and paper, 10% for participation in discussion sections, 30% for the final.

VERY IMPORTANT: If you register for 4 credits, you MUST do the required written work. If after having signed up for the fourth credit, you decide that you do not want to complete the written work, you MUST formally drop the credit, with the Registrar, by the 12th week of class. Only the Registrar can excuse you from the responsibility of doing the work for the fourth credit. If you do not drop that credit officially, you will be held responsible for it.
