

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON
Department of History
Spring Semester, 1991

357

SECOND WORLD WAR

SCHUURMANS

OFFICE HOURS

Wednesday and Friday from 1- 3 pm and by appointment.
Humanities, 5126

REQUIRED BOOKS:

George Orwell, Homage to Catalonia.
Andre Malraux, Man's Fate.
B. Engelmann, In Hitler's Germany: Daily life in the Third Reich.
Harry Mulisch, The Assault.
Primo Levi, Survival in Auschwitz.

Peter Calvocoressi, Total War vol. I and vol. II.
Eubanks, Roots and Causes of World War II.

Four Credits Students Only:
Jules Benjamin, A student Guide to History.

EXAMS

SIX WEEK EXAM

Map quiz, 5 out of 6 ideas and one essay out of three questions.

PAPER

Three credit students must write a 6-8 page paper. Four credit students must write a 10-12 research paper. In addition they need to participate in the writing lab., which will meet at a separate hour. Topics for four credit papers will be assigned.

COURSE

This is not a military history course. Although these aspects will be addressed the focus of this course will be on the roots and causes of the war. Furthermore we will look at how the experience of war affected the daily life of ordinary people. Finally, we will examine the impact of the war on twentieth century history.