

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
Department of History

Semester II Year 1976-77

COURSE NO.	COURSE TITLE	INSTRUCTOR
361	The Emergence of Modern Britain: England, 1485-1660	Mr. Sachse

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The course deals with cultural, social, political and economic issues and developments of the period. Considerable attention is devoted to the Reformation and its effects in England, and to the beginnings of England's colonial empire.

LECTURES

Three lectures per week.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS and EXAMINATIONS

Two 50-minute exams (about the 6th and 12th weeks), and a final exam. One term paper, due late in the semester, is required of 4-credit students and graduate students.

GRADING SYSTEM

Final grade is based on the two 50-minute exams (1/3); the final exam (1/3); and the term paper (1/3).

REQUIRED READINGS

Roger Lockyer, Tudor and Stuart Britain
T.M. Parker, English Reformation to 1558
A.L. Rowse, The England of Elizabeth
Lawrence Stone, Causes of the English Revolution
Christopher Hill, The World Turned Upside Down

Also selections from works on reserve.