

History 419
History of Soviet Russia

Professor F. Hirsch

Fall 2005

This course surveys Soviet history from 1917 to 1991, examining the formation and dissolution of the Soviet Empire. We will explore the connection between revolutionary politics and culture, the violent effort to forge a socialist society, Soviet nationality policy, the experiences and consequences of war, postwar efforts at reform and stabilization, and the break-up of the USSR into a collection of independent states.

Format: Lectures and discussion section. Attendance at discussion section is mandatory. Students are expected to show up prepared and ready to participate.

Readings: Books marked * are available at the University Book Store. A required course packet is available at Student Print in Memorial Union. All course materials are on reserve at College Library.

Grading: Course grades determined as follows: discussion section 20%, midterm exam 20%, 5-6 page term paper based on a memoir and course readings 20%, short weekly response papers 15%, map quiz 5%, final exam 20%. Students taking the course pass/fail must pass all components of the course. Exam questions will be based on lectures and mandatory readings.
